Heads Up 10th March

Dear parents,

It has been another exciting week here at Pott Shrigley!

On Thursday we visited the Halle with our Class 3 children for concert themed around global awareness with a range of music focussed around the world we live in. Children were encouraged to think about protecting the planet using multi-sensory approaches. They also got the chance to participate in a 'big sing' with the 1,500 children that attended.

Today we kicked off our science week with a robotic and coding workshop. Our class 1 and class 2 children had the opportunity to make a robot from scratch using Lego, motors, sensors and USB leads. They all did a fabulous job and showed fantastic leadership skills in groups of three.

Our class 3 children extended their learning by using coding on their robots to enable them to move. They programmed instructions using graphical block environment coding. A fantastic start to our science week!

Next week we have exciting investigations, experiments and activities planned to celebrate national science week. Our year 5 and 6 children will also visit Ash Grove for an Aim High Science event. We will finish the week with science in the forest with our forest school leaders.

Please don't forget that Monday is our world book day! The children are really excited to meet a real-life author, Jenni Spangler. This weekend, please talk to your children about what they may like to ask Jenni during the 'meet the author' session on Monday morning. Children can come dressed in any character, author or inspirational figure they choose on Monday - we can't wait to see them in costume and celebrate this special day together.
