BRIDGE WATER HALL

On Wednesday, we all went on a school trip to Bridge Water Hall to watch a concert. When they started playing, I felt inspired to play myself! After a few songs I think I started to drift off to sleep. My favorite song was the Avengers end game; it was really dramatic and loud, that's why I liked it a lot.

I was seated next to my best friend, Tyler, and I had a lot of fun choosing who our favorite person in the orchestra was. After that, there was this gentleman who entertained the children, his name was Tom Redmond he was very fun and energetic.

I think they could do one thing that would be a lot better: Add more black people to the orchestra because then it would be a lot better. The conductor's name was Delyana Lazarova she led all the musicians so they can go in time and play together, she was very nice and clapped at us when we did our singing.

My favorite part of the orchestra was when we did our bit and sang: it takes a certain kind of imagination, the orchestra played along with us and it made it sound in sync. At the end of us singing the orchestra gave us a round of applause and we gave them a round of applause.

When we first came in the orchestra they gave us scratch and sniff cards, one smelt like smoke another smelt of pinecones the last one smelt like perfume I didn't like the smell of the fire scratch and sniff though because it really smelt like smoke.

I have gathered some quotes here are some of them:

Olivia Martin: Noisy at the start but then I got into it.

Sienna: It felt magical and you didn't know what to expect next!

Mrs. Bromley: I loved watching the Children watch and listen to the orchestra they all seemed entranced by the music.

That was my experience at the Bridge Water Hall.
