Dear parents

LOCKDOWN 3, week five = DONE ✓

Dear parents

I hope that you enjoyed finding time to express yourselves this week?!

I recently heard a good idea from a fellow headteacher and thought I would share the idea with you. He said that he had shared some of the ways his own family try to spend time together during lockdown and then invited parents to share their own ideas. I loved Victoria's idea of walking around Bollington to see who can do the most miles as a way of being together when we are apart.

The things I do with my own family mainly revolve around food or being outdoors. Many of you have met my lovely Rose and I also have a fantastic step-daughter called Erin. This Saturday, we are having 'French Night'. It sounds terribly posh but I mean French in the loosest sense of the word; it will involve chicken and red wine, listening to French music and drinking Orangina. My parents are coming because they are part of our child care bubble and they look forward to having someone else cook for them. We are not chefs but it is just a way of having a bit of fun during the lockdown. We might play a board game so that we can argue about who is giving too many clues and pretend that we don't mind who wins.

Please do share the ways you are trying to stay positive and enjoy time with your family because we would love to hear your ideas and share them. We are nearly at half term and you can soon have a week without thinking about school work.

Our happy news is that Lisa Paton is back in the office on a phased return. She is recovering well from her surgery and we are all delighted to have her back. Thanks to Aimee for covering in the office, you have been absolutely brilliant.

If anyone would like access to worship at home, the following website has videos on a number of themes: Faith at Home videos | The Church of England

Church services are continuing online at St Christopher's every Sunday via Facebook and you can also access the recorded version on the church website: St Christopher's Church, Pott Shrigley \(pottshrigleychurch.org.uk\)

As always, if you are struggling or worried, please give us a call and we will do our best to help. I hope that you have a relaxing weekend.

Kind Regards

Joanne Bromley
